Your daily life is your temple and your religion.

Whenever you enter into it take with you your all.

Take the plough and the forge and the mallet and the lute.

The things you have fashioned in necessity or for delight.

For in reverie you cannot rise above your achievements nor fall lower than your failures.

And take with you all men.

For in adoration you cannot fly higher than their hopes nor humble yourself lower than their despair.

And if you would know God be not therefore a solver of riddles.

Rather look about you and you shall see Him playing with your children.

And look into space; you shall see Him walking in the cloud, outstretching His arms in the lightning and descending in rain.

You shall see Him smiling in flowers, then rising and waving His hands in trees.

Kahlil Gibran

Special thanks to:

all those who contributed to the book and especially to Robin Mick and Richard Ginn who were always around when I needed them, Sr. Jean Burbo, Brother Jaime, Mr. Sandidge, and numerous others who understood my ups and downs. Thanks for putting up with the problems.

A Lot To Look Back On

Many things over the past year have had a definite impact on the way we think and feel. From the death of singer/songwriter John Lennon and the birth of the Reagan Administration to changing the requirements of RCM and soaring inflation prices. Other things, minuscule as they may seem, have and will continue to change our lives, and looking back on them will only remind us of the hard work and ever-changing facets of our lives we have had to endure this year.

6th Street Fun

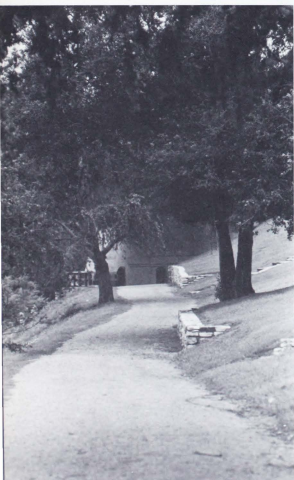

Sixth Street offers many interesting shops and places of entertainment. When things became too dull on campus, students retreated to Sixth Street for some different excitement.

Mystical St. Ed's from afar.

One of many places in Austin to lose yourself and get closer to God.

The state capital

The Frank Erwin Center houses many events popular with Austinites. Several concerts, exhibitions, and University of Texas basketball games are displayed.

The last three Wednesday nights of the semester, Brother John made possible for beer and hotdog roasts. The events brought out students who never came out of their dorm room. Robin Mick and Dan Butcher, who is complaining to Kyle Shukis that the guy before him got two hot dogs, so why couldn't he, help themselves to the free food.

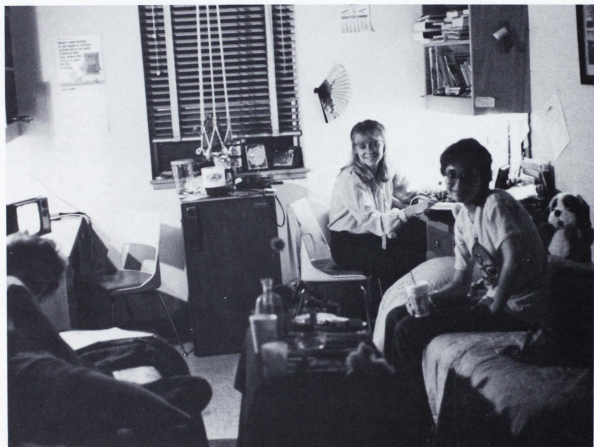

Students enjoy the hotdog outing.

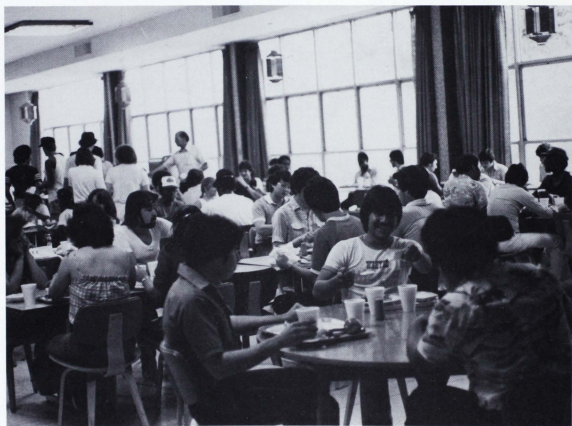

And of course, after some beer and fun, it's time to invent some new fun.

Students take time out from studies to pose for a sneaky photographer.

Martha Saint Romain studies quietly in East Hall Lobby.

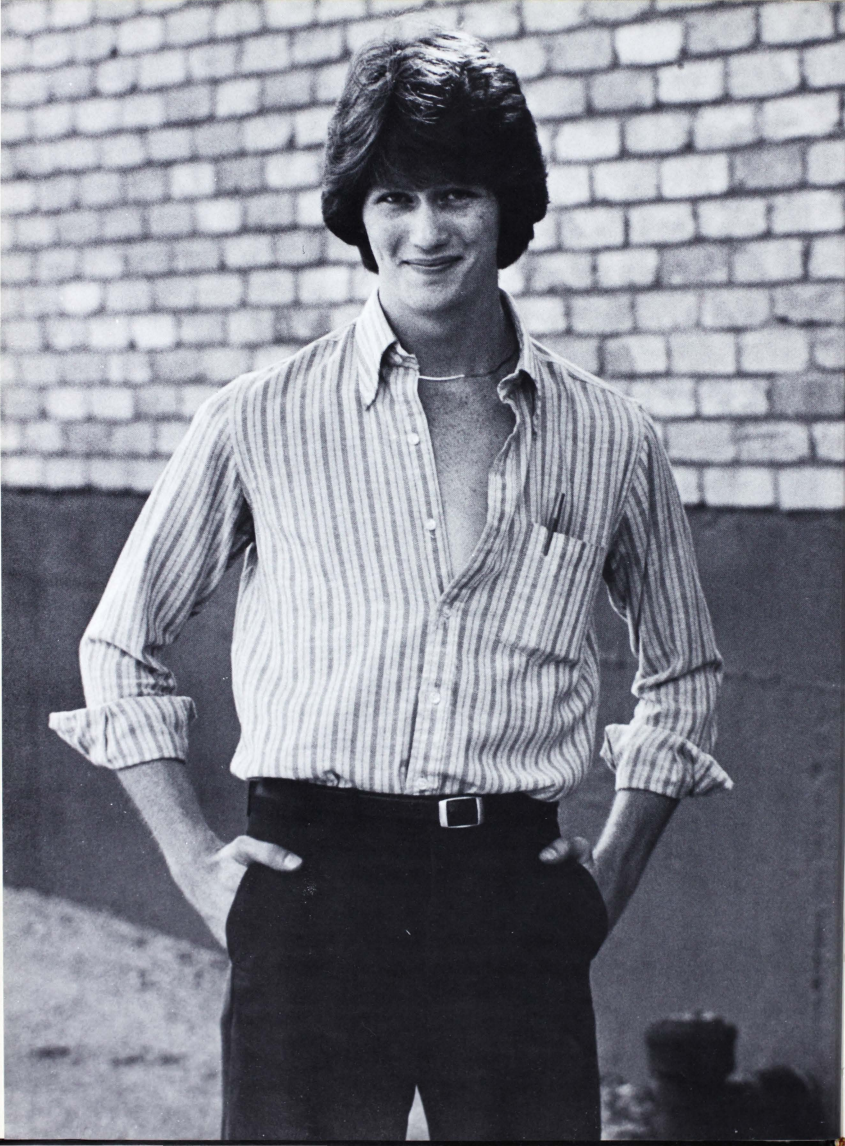

Dorm Life is one of college's greatest rewards, but there is one facet that is a true exception. Well, not always, but sometimes.

Snow at last! Even though Austin gets cold enough to snow, it never does. There hasn't been snow in Austin since 1973, and students not accustomed to it frolicked til two a.m. The next morning, many snowmen were seen around the campus.

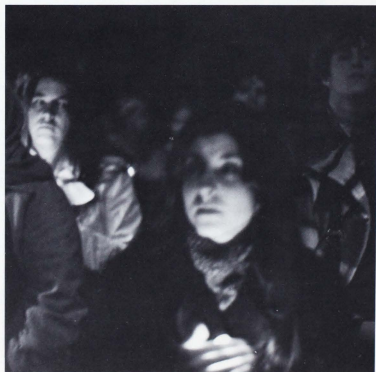

The beloved John Lennon, former Beatle, was maliciously killed in the fall by a Beatle-obsessed fan. His death brought tears and anxiety to millions of people from all walks of life who so dearly loved his music and his philosophy. Many tributes like these were made in Lennon's honor all over the world.

Interested students listened as Martin Luther King, Jr.'s daughter, Yolanda King, gave a speech at St. Edward's.

Margie Kintz and Gordon Markley look over Phonothon materials to ensure a smooth-flowing operation.

Victory!

The 1980 Phonothon was an outstanding effort by alumni, students, faculty, staff, and friends of the University. The goal of 135,000.00 was achieved prior to the completion of the Phonothon. In fact, the strong spirit of the volunteer forces remained and pushed the final total up to 147,000.00

The Phonothon, which has become the University's main fund drive in the last three years, has certainly earned a welcome place on campus. The success of the Phonothon is significant and necessary, but there is something much more important. The Alumni office has caught on to something that is a true display of community effort. The second floor of the ReUnion, where the Phonothon takes place each year, has really become an annual meeting place for old friends. Even more so, it has become a time when alumni meet new friends and have an opportunity to meet present students. This positive situation becomes even more evident for the students involved. Freshman Jacki Mordue expressed a very common feeling in a quite concise manner: "I absolutely loved the Phonothon."

The Alumni office, which readily admits its need and appreciation for the student help, should be commended for an outstanding activity which has broadened the scope of many students and, in turn, has strengthened the bonds between the students and University. Margie Kintz, Director of Alumni Programs, said the success of this year's Phonothon is "all due to the volunteers." She further added that, "This is the best group of student volunteers we've ever had."

The incentive prize of an all expenses paid trip to the coast was not just "won," but deservedly earned by Mike Guerra. The funds raised will go to support the University's operating budget to help better the lives of all members of the St. Edward's community.

All students, faculty, and staff who participated in this worthwhile activity should feel the sense of pride that was an ever-present factor in making this year's Phonothon such a huge success.

Choir Proudly

Twila Heiser and Margaret Kinsella sing out their parts in a mixture of beautiful harmonies.

Looks Back

Both the Hilltopper Chorale and the Omni Singers brought exciting and excellent music to the SEU campus this past school year. The Omni Singers culminated a busy spring term with performances of "CELEBRATE LIFE!" in Our Lady of Peace Chapel. Brother Dustan Bowles, playwright, director, and theatre critic, coordinated the entire production, making massive banners of the Four Evangelists, and setting up an unusual blocking and lighting of the show. Costumes came from the Theatre Department. Excellent musicianship was shown by Karol Ann Badgett and Tina Jo Harris who played piano and flute, respectively. The dramatization of the life of Christ was a beautiful experience for both singers and audiences. Mark Sassman was the Christ.

The Hilltopper Chorale spent three months in rehearsal for the most spectacular musical event of their history—two performances of Carl Orff's "CARMINA BURANA." Written in 1937, the hour-long setting of Latin and German poems found in a monastery in 1841 is one of the most difficult works written in this or any century. May 9 saw a magical performance in Moody Hall of the entire work without a single cut. Soloists taken from the Chorale included Kim Benson, Laura Makay, Twila Heiser, C.P. Glennon, Chuck Caudill, and Fred Zimmerman. The Learning Resource Center staff recorded the performance and made cassettes and reel-to-reel tapes of the performance that, according to some San Antonio Mastersingers in the audience, was better than two of their performances with the symphony.

Joseph Haydn's lovely "Missa brevis Sancti Joannis de Deo" closed the year for both Omni and Hilltopper performers with three string players from the Austin Symphony, Richard Lemen, pianist, and Karol Ann Badgett at the organ. It was a fitting climax to a year enriched by performances of Handel's Chandos Anthem, "O Praise the Lord with one Consent," and Brahms' "Liebeslieder Walzer," Opus 52.

Brother Gerald Muller, C.S.C., is the man who has made the success of the Hilltopper and Omni choirs possible. With a little pushing and pulling here and there, and the help of a gracious administration, the Carriage House now is fully carpeted and equipped with air conditioning. Members of the choirs will no longer have to suffer through smoldering days and excruciating heat.

Brother Gerald conducts the choir at the Christmas concert in Moody Atrium.

A concert presented in Theresa Hall was enjoyed by all.

1980-'81 HONORS PROGRAM

The Honors Program enables students who are academically talented as well as highly motivated to plan their own course of study. The first Honors Program student to graduate was Barbara Slaughter, a transfer from Austin Community College and a Criminal Justice Major.

Man and Woman of Year Ryan, Smyth

Chris Ryan, from Ho-Ho-kus, New Jersey, was a recipient of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Chris has written for both Hilltopper and Tower staffs, and was sports information director of the University. Chris was also a member of Alpha Chi along with being a freshman intern.

Finalists for Man of the Year were Jon Herron, Andrew Pelegreen, and Steve Shadowen

Mary Allen Smyth, from Anaheim, California, was a recipient of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. She has been on the Dean's List and very active throughout her college career in student government. She served as Vice President of her senior class. Serving as a chair person for Women's Concerns Committee and a seat on the Academic Council add to her other achievements.

Finalists for Woman of the Year were Cathryn Clack, Maureen Dugan, and Clare McFadden.

Coffee House Entertainment

It's Friday night, you have no date, your check book reads $0.00, so the best thing to do is mosey to the Reunion and listen to some of Austin's, as well as St. Ed's, finest talent, Beer, friends, and great music make for a fantastic time at the Reunion.

Intramurals

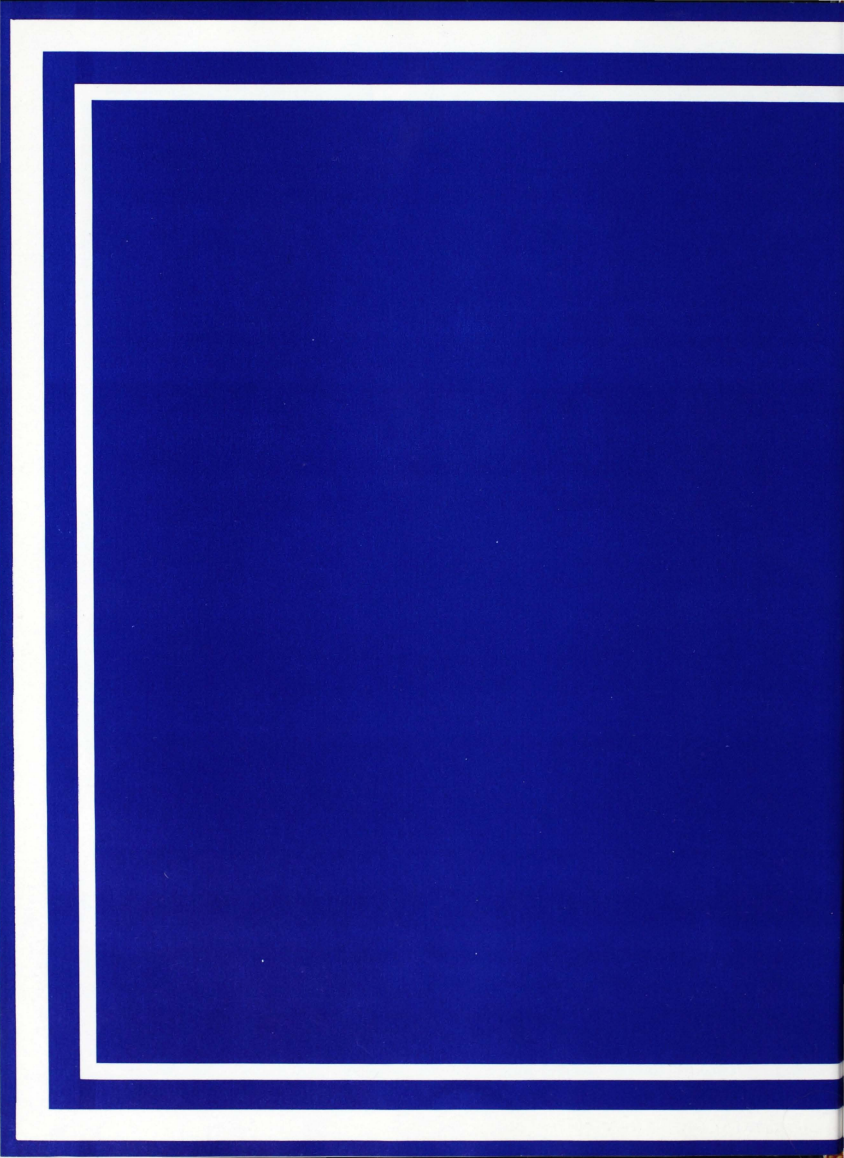

Intramurals is for those who want to stay away from the pressures and tiresome workouts of varsity athletics. School pressures can be tough to handle and with a little bit of exercise and good times, those pressures can be somewhat alleviated.

Debbie Bridges, Marty Binder, and Vanessa Johnson await Concordia's next move.

Improvement was the key word for the 1980 Women's Volleyball team, because this was the first winning season the team and Coach Diane Daniels had ever experienced. There was the usual lack of height, but with consistent playing and no prominent injuries, the Toppers were able to pull it off. This year's team also had a bit more experience under its belt. Freshmen Vanessa Johnson, Janise Thurman, and Rhonda Dilworth came off the bench to contribute to the team's victories. Returning this year were juniors Kathryn Hopkins, Julie O'Neal, and Janice White, sophomores Jackie Kirkham and Marty Binder, and transfer student from Concordia, Debbie Bridges.

Sophomore Marty Binder prepares to serve the Toppers to a victory.

Kathryn Hopkins executes a spike over opponents.

Win by forfeit

Season Record: 11-15

Despite a losing season, the 1980-81 Women's Basketball team improved in other areas. New coach Sharon McIlroy, a graduate of Texas Tech where she played varsity basketball, brought about a sudden change that kept the SEU fans coming back even though the losses outweighed the wins. During the Christmas break the Toppers lost their 5'11" center, Linda Vaughn, but they were able to take up the slack and keep up the hard work. Returning to the Topper lineup were seniors Cathy Crow and Sandi Carlisle; juniors Kathryn Hopkins and Sandra Cardenas; and sophomore Myrtis Jorden. Freshman members were Betty Glover, Liz Hernandez, Vanessa Johnson, and Marina Tijerina. Linda Vaughn was a junior transfer and Pam Whitt, also a junior, was new to the team. With the backbone this year's team built, a promising future awaits them.

Senior Johnny Campbell shoots over defense to boost the Topper score.

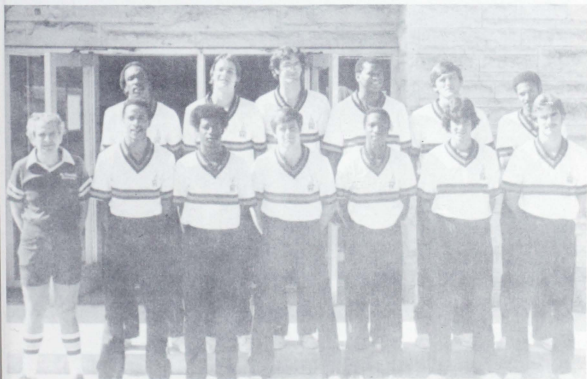

Coach Dan Montgomery's Hilltoppers finished in third place in the Big State Conference posting a respectable 7-5 conference record, and a 13-15 season record. The Toppers remained in contention for a playoff bid until late in the season, losing heartbreakers to St. Mary's (70-69) and Southwestern (77-71) at home. St. Mary's went on to win the conference with a 12-0 record. Guard Johnny Campbell, forward Marcus Jones, and post Andre Glover were selected second team All-Big State Conference.

The 1980-'81 Women's Tennis team came out of the season with only three wins and eight losses. With a little more consistency and with fewer team problems, the Lady Netters would have been able to pull it off. Returning netters were seniors Clare McFadden and Cindy Brown—most valuable and most improved—respectively; and junior Margaret Cooper. Clare Guerra, Lizie Silva, and Laura Yzaguirre made up the freshman squad. With such a young team, improvement is definite.

St. Ed's receives trophy from Brother Stephen

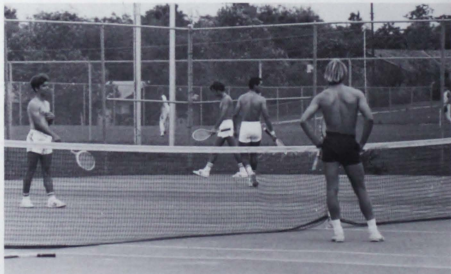

The Toppers scramble after the ball.

The 1980-'81 Men's Soccer Team can be called anything but rookies, which, in a sense, they really were. But that did not stand in their way. Led by Coach Adolfo Sanchez, the Toppers were able to pull off an excellent first-year season. They won a trophy for their performance.

Freshman John McFadden displays a strong forearm.

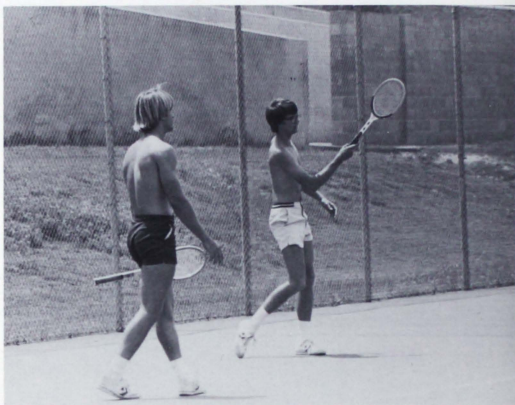

During tennis there is time to stop and check out the baseball game.

Practice makes for a Topper victory.

Mark Platt executes his forearm during an important match.

The Men's tennis Team inevitably won the Conference title with an undefeated, unscored-upon 6-0 conference record. The championship marked the 20th such title for the Hilltoppers in 21 years, all under the direction of Brother Emmett Strohmeyer, C.S.C. Paul Weber, Team co-captain, died in a tragic accident two days after the Hilltoppers won the Conference Championship and was later named the BSC most valuable player. Other SEU All-Conference selections were freshman Luis Stephens and sophomore Kevin Mullins. Mullins was the BSC Tournament singles champ, Mark Platt and Mark Pringle were the BSC doubles champions.

Baseball Fever

Henry Thames knocks a homer to help bring on a Topper victory.

Close call for first baseman.

Batter, Bubba Jennings tries for a base hit to help the Topper score.

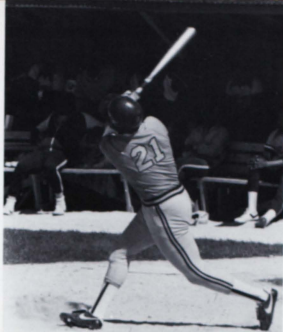

A bunt by Greg Gale gives him a base hit.

Besides enjoying the game, spectators take time to munch on McDonald's.

Ed Vallenzano and Mark Cyrier confirm the next pitches.

Myron Gilmore, senior, puts his all into a swing. Gilmore was chosen in the eighteenth round by Toronto Blue Jays Batgirl, Jenny O'Conner, one of several batgirls, plays an integral part of baseball by retrieving bats after the batters throw them down.

At the end of the fifth inning, the game was called due to the ten point rule. The toppers chalked up another victory.

The Baseball Team racked up a solid 35-16 overall record and a 10-7 Conference record, good for a third place finish in the seven team field. The team received outstanding performances from Myron Gilmore (batted .389, knocked 14 home runs, stole nearly 30 bases, and accumulated over 50 runs batted in), Henry Thames (clouted 10 home runs while playing with a hampered leg) and Morgan Lartch (threw a no-hitter against Huston-Tillotson en route to an 8-2 overall record).

Graduation—always

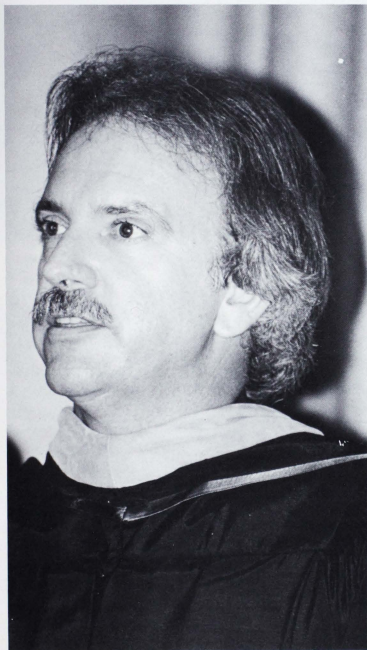

Maureen Ryan and friends enjoy good food and good conversation at the President's traditional after-baccalaureate party.

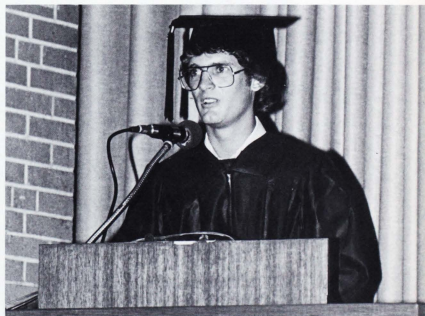

Graduates celebrate communion during baccalaureate mass at St. Ignatius.

looked back on

Father Neal Wise was selected by the seniors to speak to them at graduation. His humorous and philosophical implications were enjoyed by all.

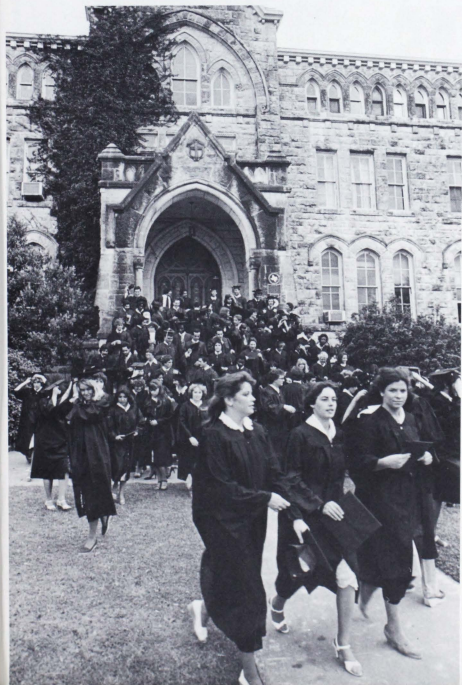

Vince Mezzapelli, a native of San Jose, California, was the 1981 valedictorian. He graduated with degrees in Psychology, Computer Science, and Mathematics with a G.P.A. of 4.0. Vince will begin his graduate work at the University of New Hampshire to do research in experimental psychology.

Kathryn Clack carries a big smile as she receives her diploma from Brother Stephen.

Danny De La Rosa talks with friends and family after graduation.

Class of '81

As graduation came to a close, plans were made as to where each prospective student will carry out his given degree. Some will stay in the Austin area, some will go back to their home towns, and others will seek out new territory to build businesses or further their education. Wherever the paths lead us, we have to keep in mind that we may never see each other again, but we will always have the memories of the things we learned at school, the teachers we became fond of, and the lasting friendships we built over the past four years. The road was not easy, but we finally made it, and the rest of our lives depend greatly on how we use the wisdom and knowledge we have acquired at St. Edward's University. May we always look back on these years as being the best years of our lives.
