Foreword

"Christian Education takes in the whole aggregate of human life, physical and spiritual, intellectual and moral, individual, domestic and social, not with a view of reducing it in any way, but in order to elevate, regulate and perfect it, in accordance with the example and teaching of Christ." Thus Pope Pius XI states the nature and purpose of education in his encyclical, Christian Education of Youth, and it is this concept which we have chosen as our theme for The TIGER of 1953.

Spiritually our education is based on the fundamental concept that man is composed of body and soul. And it is in developing and perfecting our natural facilities in coordination with right reason that we prepare ourselves for what we must do and be here below in order to obtain our final destiny. For as the Holy Father states, "There can be no true education which is not wholly directed to man's last end."

Intellectual education is regarded as the primary object of the school. It is grounded in the realization that the intellect, a faculty of the soul, seeks truth. The search for truth in the arts and sciences ultimately leads us to the life and teachings of Christ whose example is the basis for the development of the young Catholic mind.

Socially a student engages in activities that are a part of the American way of life. These activities, properly chaperoned, are as much a part of the complete education of the Catholic boy and girl as the instruction they receive in the class room. All mold the student's body and soul in accordance with sound Catholic teaching, proper home training and family life.

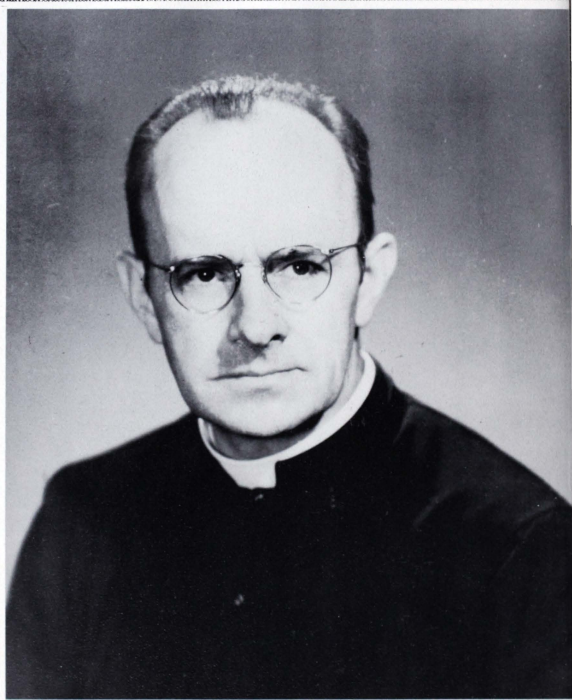

Physically a student participates in athletics and physical education under the direction of teachers properly instructed in the true Christian concept of sportsmanship and fair play. The conditioning of the young, growing body is given proper emphasis in the Christian manner.

It is the hope of the editors of the TIGER to portray within these pages the effects of these principles upon our relationship with our fellowmen through this year of our lives as students of St. Edward's.

Dedication

*We do not say "Farewell."
We say no more for feelings can't be said.
Our thanks and gratitude is all that we can tell.*

*We'll think of you so very much;
And that is true. We'll long remember
Your helpful ways, your unselfish service,
Your generosity, your wonderful deeds . . . so much.*

*You've been so strong for us to lean upon
When we were hopelessly confused.
And when we felt alone and lost
We found you to guide us on.*

*The curtain drops softly on the play.
And very often is this familiar scene
When we hear words so strangely dear,
We'll look behind and happily remember your very patient ways.*

Faculty and

Perfect schools are the result not so much of good methods as of good teachers, teachers who are thoroughly prepared and well-grounded in the matter they have to teach; who possess the intellectual and moral qualifications required by their important office; who cherish a pure and holy love for the youths confided to them, because they love Jesus Christ and His Church, of which these are the children of predilection; and who have therefore sincerely at heart the true good of family and country.

Hence the true Christian, product of Christian education, is the supernatural man who thinks, judges and acts constantly and consistently in accordance with right reason illumined by the supernatural light of the example and teaching of Christ; in other words, to use the correct term, the true and finished man of character.

Summary

EDGEWOOD—20

ST. ED'S—22

In a remarkable comeback drive late in the game, the Tigers scored their third touchdown to defeat the Red Raiders of Edgewood High of San Antonio, 22 to 20. The feature of the game was the fine running of George Moran, Jim Marbury, and Joe Molina behind the fine blocking of the entire line.

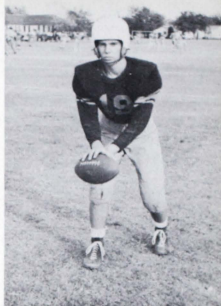

JESUIT—26

ST. ED'S—0

In the first home game for the Tigers, the Jesuit High Rangers of Dallas defeated the Tigers, 26 to 0. The invaders completely outclassed the Tigers in a brilliant show of power plays and forward passes. However, Bud Staples and George Moran helped immeasurably to hold the Rangers by playing their positions as linebackers well for the Blue and Gold.

CONCORDIA—26

ST. ED'S—2

In a closer game than the score indicates, the Concordia Cardinals of North Austin defeated St. Ed's 26 to 2. Concordia took advantage of every break and stopped the Tiger offensive with a hard charging defensive line. The lone two St. Ed's points were scored when a Concordia punt was blocked. Pancho Reyes, Bennie Kainer, and Dubbie Duperier were the outstanding players for St. Ed's.

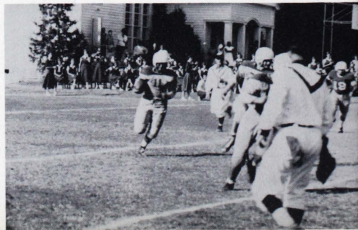

TEXAS SILENTS—15

ST. ED'S—12

Lady luck was against the Tigers again as they lost a hard fought 15 to 12 game to the Texas School for the Deaf. The backfield combination of Dubbie Duperier, Fred Bednarski, Pancho Reyes, and George Moran ran well against the Silent's line but were hampered by a series of fumbles.

Pancho Reyes coming 'round end.

Summary

SACRED HEART—20

ST. ED'S—14

Although sparked by a 61 yard run by Pancho Reyes, the Blue and Gold suffered their fourth defeat of the season at the hands of Sacred Heart of Hallettsville. The score, 20 to 14, is a good indication of the closeness of the game as both teams played good football.

SAN MARCOS—19

ST. ED'S—24

Displaying splendid organization and a 'do or die' spirit, the fighting Tigers of St. Edward's ended the season with a team victory over the San Marcos Academy 24 to 19. This victory was a fitting tribute to Coach Russ Jensen, who resigned his position as Coach to accept a Knights of Columbus insurance position. The win was credited to all the members of the team and especially to Pancho Reyes.

Activities

The true Christian does not renounce the activities of this life, he does not stunt his natural faculties; but he develops and perfects them, by co-ordinating them with the supernatural. He thus ennobles what is merely natural in life and secures for it a new strength in the material and temporal order, no less than in the spiritual and eternal.

Later that week the films of the parade were shown on TV and the Rangers also appeared there. Below are a few scenes from the Inaugural Parade.

Phi Beta Chi Exhibit

Seventy-two booths lined the gym on May 12th for the first PBX science exhibit. The variety of the biological, chemical, mathematical, and general science exhibits was as interesting as their scope and extent were surprising. Over four hundred people visited the various booths and heard explanations from the student demonstrators. Five judges selected the winners of the awards.

Biology

Practically all of the students in Biology class volunteered to make plaster molds for their fourth sixth weeks project. After working diligently and patiently making the mold, sanding, and painting it, the biologists turned in their final products to Brother Stanley, C.S.C., biology instructor.

The molds, producing an array of colors, were then voted on by the entire student body. The results of the election were as follows: 1st, a dissected fish by Knobby Rutherford; 2nd, a cross-section of a frog by Bob Qualia; 3rd, a model human brain by Jack Passmore; 4th, an amoeba by Luddy Scotka; 5th, a leaf cross-section by Will Young; 6th, a model of the human intestines by James Fogarty; 7th, a hydra by Andrew Viscardi; and 8th, an earthworm segment by Daniel Fabian.

Man-of-the-Year
Scholar-of-the-Year

Man of the Year and Scholar of the Year

To a member of the Senior Class who best exemplifies the code of the St. Edward's Man, who has the respect of both faculty and students, who has stood at the head of his class academically for four years, who has taken highest honors for proficiency in Christian Doctrine three times, who has been a charter member of the National Honor Society for six semesters—and this year its president—who currently is editor of student publications at St. Edward's—The ECHO and the TIGER—

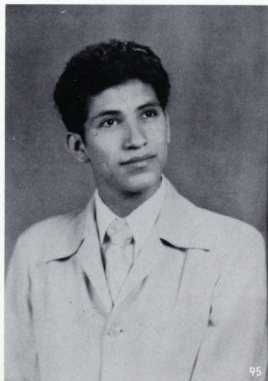

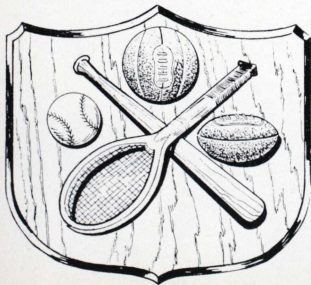

A young man who combines a facile sense of wit and humor with a rigid sense of responsibility, who through four years has been an inspiration to his companions as a truly Christian gentleman, we deem it an especial privilege to confer the double distinction of "Man of the Year," and "Scholar of the Year" awards for the year 1953 upon Virgil Fred Bomar of Austin, Texas.

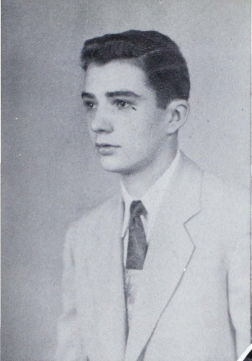

Athlete of the Year

To a distinguished athlete of St. Edward's, outstanding for his performance on the baseball diamond, a regular in the line-up for three seasons: a converted first-baseman who in 1952 was named to the All-State Catholic Baseball Team, and who this year—in his converted role of pitcher—was instrumental in bringing the title of District Champions to St. Edwards—

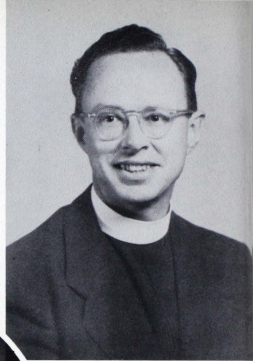

In virtue of his good sportsmanship, his mighty power on the mound, his loyalty to his team mates, we are pleased to confer the "Athlete of the Year" award upon the boy with the omnipresent smile, Ruben Alvarez of Austin, Texas.
